

Kevin Maher

Head Of Operations, Ireland

“I’ve worked for GEC since 2012 and I am proud of the focus we have on building and developing strong teams who go above and beyond for our clients and guests.

It is a real pleasure to see quality ingredients arriving at our sites, which are handled with loving care and are utilised by passionate kitchen teams that love to cook. As Carlos always says, ‘beautifully simple, simply beautiful dishes’, it’s a joy”

Based in Ennis with responsibility for The Good Eating Company’s clients in Galway, Kevin will support the Arup team on a weekly basis or as required.

Duncan Cruickshanks

Group Executive Chef

Duncan is passionate about creating exceptional food experiences using fresh, seasonal ingredients, with a focus on innovative, sustainable, and flavour-led menus that people genuinely enjoy. He first joined The Good Eating Company in 2017 as Development Chef, returning in 2025 after gaining extensive experience in senior chef roles across renowned restaurants, private members' clubs, and international venues including London, Dubai, New York, Alaska, and France.

During his time at GEC, he has led menu development, supported client pitches, and driven culinary standards and innovation across the business. He thrives on mentoring teams and fostering growth in the kitchen, and loves the energy, creativity, and sense of community at GEC.

Charlotte Arthur

General Manager, ARUP London

“Originally from France, I moved to England after graduating with an MBA in Hospitality Management and started my career in the luxury hotel and restaurant industry, eventually progressing to manage a Michelin starred restaurant. By joining the Good Eating Company at ARUP, I have transferred my experience into the workplace and am passionate about providing an amazing experience for our guests at ARUP”

Based in London, Charlotte will be instrumental in sharing knowledge on the successful relationship between GEC and ARUP.
